INPUT[®]

Information Systems Industry

Customer Service Program—
U.S.

CLIENT SUPPORT

Access to INPUT Consultants

Clients receive continuous support from INPUT's consultants and executives. Call them for reactions and opinions.

"Hotline" Inquiry Service

The "Hotline" Inquiry Service provides fulfillment of 'short-term' research needs (requiring less than two hours) as well as clarification/amplification of report and presentation data.

Customer Service Newsletter (Bimonthly)

Questions posed by our clients through the "Hotline" Inquiry Service along with answers are reported. Current topics in the U.S. and Europe in customer service are analyzed—e.g., new vendor pricing strategies or service offerings.

On-Site Visit

An INPUT consultant presents research results and industry forecasts at your site. Your issues and interests are discussed together with industry trends.

Customer Service Conference

INPUT analyses and forecasts are presented and discussed. Vendor strategies and key industry trends will be presented.

This annual conference enables INPUT's clients to be updated on key strategic industry trends and developments, as well as to meet senior staff from other INPUT clients.

RELATED SERVICES

- Customer Service Program—Europe covers the European equipment and software maintenance and support industry.
- Custom Research and Consulting projects analyze market opportunities, user needs, competitive environment, acquisition targets, etc.
- Consultant Presentations—INPUT's consultants are available to provide presentations for planning meetings, user groups, or other functions.

PROGRAM SUBSCRIPTION OPTIONS

Based on your needs, you may select one, two, or three subscription options as follows:

Customer Service Program—U.S.

EFFECTIVE PLANNING FOR EFFECTIVE PERFORMANCE

The Customer Service Program—U.S. evaluates, projects, and recommends changes in the computer equipment maintenance and software support fields. It emphasizes the determination of user needs and vendor performance in meeting these needs.

Through research-based studies and support services the program provides information you need to forecast service requirements, analyze competition, and address the challenges of new technology.

SCOPE

The program provides an overall examination of the computer customer service industry through a major market report, user requirements reports, vendor profiles, special issue reports, newsletters, and support services.

SPECIAL ISSUE REPORTS

In 1990 INPUT will produce three special issue reports as follows:

Analysis of U.S. Service Offerings

This report describes and compares the offerings and the terms and conditions of various vendors. It also provides an analysis of the overall strategic directions of the marketplace relative to offerings.

Local Area Network Support—User Requirements

This report will be based on data obtained from INPUT user surveys. It will examine the customer needs in this fast growth area and the acceptance trends of the new offerings for customers using local area networks (LANs).

Analysis of User Help Desk Offerings

This report will be based on data obtained from INPUT user surveys. It will examine user needs for help desk support and the acceptance trends of the new offerings supporting the help desk function.

CUSTOMER SERVICE MARKET REPORT

This major report:

- Presents forecasts of user expenditures for service for each market category
- Examines key customer service issues
- Identifies trends that could help or hinder success
- Pinpoints new opportunities for service revenue
- Recommends specific action to increase revenue

CUSTOMER SERVICE USER REQUIREMENTS REPORTS

Three Customer Service User Requirements Reports are produced: Large Systems, Midrange Systems, and PCs/Workstations. Each report measures the importance of service components and user satisfaction with vendor performance for:

- Equipment maintenance
- Software support
- Ancillary services
- Education and training services
- Documentation

CUSTOMER SERVICE VENDOR PROFILE REPORTS

Profiles are produced on 20 major hardware vendors, nine major third-party maintenance vendors, and four major dealer organizations. Each profile:

- Analyzes service discounting, warranty, and pricing practices and trends
- Addresses marketing tactics and strategies
- Examines specific service offerings

About INPUT

INPUT provides planning information, analysis, and recommendations to managers and executives in the information processing industries. Through market research, technology forecasting, and competitive analysis, INPUT supports client management in making informed decisions.

Continuous-information advisory services, proprietary research/consulting, merger/acquisition assistance, and multiclient studies are provided to users and vendors of information systems and services (software, processing services, turnkey systems, systems integration, professional services, communications, systems/software maintenance and support).

Many of INPUT's professional staff members have more than 20 years' experience in their areas of specialization. Most have held senior management positions in operations, marketing, or planning. This expertise enables INPUT to supply practical solutions to complex business problems.

Formed as a privately held corporation in 1974, INPUT has become a leading international research and consulting firm. Clients include more than 100 of the world's largest and most technically advanced companies.
