Systems Operations at Cummins:

Data Center Outsourcing Decision

November 13, 1990

Cummins

- $3.6 billion sales
- Diesel engines and related products
- 26,000 employees
- Manufacture in 16 countries
- Headquarters -- Columbus, Indiana

Cummins

---

- Corporate Staff
- Three Operating groups
  - Engine Business
  - Components
  - Power Systems

Cummins Data Processing Organization

- No "corporate" systems organization
- Large "Engine Business" Systems group
  - Data Center -- 50 people
  - Applications group -- 100 people
- Systems groups at each main plant and profit center

Why Outsource?

- Didn't have problem; operated efficiently
- New Data Center required -- capacity / capital
- Disaster recovery
- Technical depth -- "house of cards"
- Technology
- Cost
- Utility

Decision Making Process

- Open, not secret
- Heavy Senior management involvement
- Analysis team

Key Issues

---

- Data center only
- People
- Jobs in Columbus
- Ability to reverse
- Loss of in-house technical capability
- Could we be held hostage?

Vendor Characteristics

- Demonstrated ability
- Invisible migration
- Disaster recovery -- backup
- Technical depth
- Technology
- Data center performance assumed -- help in other areas

Vendor Characteristics

- Style, values -- match, complement Cummins
- Responsive account management structure
- Access to top management
- Long term partner -- ability to help us

Vendors Considered

- IBM
- EDS
- McDonnell Douglas

Selection Process

---

- Proposals
- Responsiveness of proposal process
- Visits to vendor
- Visits to vendors' customers
- Much deliberation!

Do it again? How is it going?

- Yes!
- On schedule
- Transparent
- Responsive
- Community
- Learning to work with us

How Managing Relationship?

- Operating
- Strategic / Corporate

Issues for the Future

- Other locations
- Corporate information management strategy

Partnership

- Vendor must earn partnership relationship
- Issues in a non-directive environment
- Client's ability to partner
- What is partnership -- structured or seamless?
